Jade

16.504

S.I.1050

Chinese,

Chou dynasty. Neolithic

Perforated disc of the type pi; bored mostly from one side; mottled light to dark shades of brown with scattered spots of greenish translucent strata; profuse grayish coating of disintegration especially in veins and breaks; proportions and surface contours uneven.

(Rim and some surface areas roughened with chips and cracks). Box.

Neg. No. H376B5

.184 in diameter. (7-1/4")

- Bought from Seaouke Yue, of Shanghai, in New York. For price, see Original Miscellaneous List, p. 234.
- - 3. (I.M., 1945) Chou dynasty.
- 4. Sp. G. is 2.955. Decomposition prevents accurate calculation for nephrite.
 - 5. Exhibited:

1917 Chicago, Ill. The Art Institute, No. 113.

6. (T.Lawton, 1978) Attribution changed from Chou to Neolithic. See folder sheet for 17.19.